The November 7, 2021 Annual meeting of Emmanuel Episcopal Church was called to order by Fr. Joe Dunagan with prayer at 9:15 a.m. Fr. Joe presented the vestry slate of candidates for 2022 vestry to the congregation. The candidates were Jane Bachman, Tim Haer, Doug Mancabelli, and Tariq Zaidi. As there were only four available vestry seats and four candidates, the candidates were approved by the attending parishioners

Senior Warden Candy Snodgrass gave a state of the church report.

Junior Warden Dave Zochowski updated the parish about various building projects including new flooring in the offices, new flooring in the undercroft, and the installation of a new dehumidifier system in the undercroft.

Treasurer Daniel Shew reported on the church's financials and asked parishioners to prayerfully consider submitting their annual pledge. Mr. Shew also spoke of his commitment to the congregation and of his gratitude to be part of Emmanuel's spiritual family.

Fr. Joe spoke at length about various subjects including: his position as the rector, salaries, and the 2022 budget.

There was general conversation about restarting "normal" activities in the wake of COVID.

Several parishioners voiced their concerns about varying issues.

The meeting adjourned at 10: 15 a.m.
